

A5 Rainbow Talking Photo Albums EL00362

Six handy talking photo albums for creating your own books and memories in. A perfect home/school link.

“This resource is particularly useful in supporting independent learning across the curriculum. It can be used to pre-teach vocabulary linked to a theme or topic and then supports children to embed this new vocabulary.”

- Naming animals, landmarks, flowers etc as linked to a theme or topic.
- Independent phonics practise, using grapheme cards and recorded phonemes.

Reviewed by Corngreaves Academy

“This can also be used to support the learning of number names, shapes and subitising patterns.”

- Practising, saying the correct name for numerals or shapes.
- Practising recognising subitising patterns.

“As children develop, they can use the Talking Photo Albums to record their own words and short sentences to match a series of illustrations from familiar books or from their own stories. (Literacy)”

- Recording sentences, using illustrations from familiar texts, to create stories.
- Recording sentences, using own drawings and pictures, to create stories.

Many thanks to Corngreaves Academy for their review of this product.